

Logos

Logos are extremely important assets to all businesses. They are the most visible form of our brand identity and they represent the high standards and values that we operate by. That is why we ask journalists who wish to use our logos in connection with news stories to observe the legal restrictions outlined below.

Please read the following guidelines:

Logo guidelines for press agencies and journalists

UHY logos may be used under these guidelines only by press agencies and journalists publishing articles specifically about UHY and its products and services. Any use of the artwork outside of these guidelines is strictly prohibited.

The logos may only be used in close proximity to, or in obvious connection with, a published article or broadcast news story about UHY or a specific UHY product or service.

The logos may not be copied, distributed or used apart from the article or broadcast commentary about the company or the applicable product or service. For example, you may not redistribute the logo in hard copy or electronic form or make it available online for others to copy.

The logos must be used as provided by UHY, with no changes, including, but not limited to, changes in the colour, proportion, or design, or removal of any words or artwork. The logos may not be animated, morphed, or otherwise distorted in perspective or appearance.

To properly present a logo, a minimum clearance between the logo and other elements must be maintained. For example, the amount of clear or "empty" space that surrounds the logo should be at least equal to ½ the height of the logo.

The logo must stand alone and may not be combined with any other object, including, but not limited to, other logos, words, graphics, photos, slogans, numbers, design features, or symbols.

Suppliers to UHY are not permitted to use these logos without first receiving express permission from UHYF.
